

American Society for Nutrition
Excellence in Nutrition Research and Practice

David S. Seres, MD
Columbia University Medical Center
dseres@columbia.edu

March 2014

Dear Dr. Seres,

On behalf of the American Society for Nutrition (ASN) and its Foundation, we would like to congratulate you on being chosen as the recipient of the 2014 Excellence in Nutrition Education Award. This award is given for outstanding contributions to teaching nutrition. Our Society annually grants over $452,068 in scientific awards, student grants, travel awards and honoraria to experts and emerging leaders in nutrition science and practice. Congratulations on joining this group of highly regarded scientists and clinicians!

I am pleased to invite you and a guest to attend the ASN Awards Ceremony on Sunday, April 27 at the Hilton San Diego Bayfront Hotel (1 Park Blvd, San Diego, CA) during the ASN Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting at Experimental Biology 2014. The ceremony will begin at 6:00 PM and it will be preceded by an Awards Sponsors & Winners Meet and Greet event at 4:30 PM, also at the Hilton San Diego Bayfront Hotel. During the ceremony, an award of $2,500 and an inscribed plaque supported by Cengage Learning will be presented to you. As a senior investigator award recipient, we welcome your brief remarks in recognition of your tremendous career accomplishments.

Lastly, we ask that you please prepare a brief summary (no more than 300 words) of your positions, studies, and achievements that are relevant to this award. This description will appear in the ASN Awards Ceremony program book as well as ASN's quarterly newsletter, Nutrition Notes. In addition to a summary, we ask that you submit a high-resolution photograph of yourself. Please submit your summary and photograph to awards@nutrition.org by Monday, March 17, 2014.

Again, I wish you my sincere congratulations on your distinguished career in nutrition.

Sincerely,

Gordon L. Jensen, MD, PhD
President, American Society for Nutrition

Robert M. Russell, MD
President, ASN Foundation

CC: John E. Courtney, PhD
Executive Officer, American Society for Nutrition